Design services are generally quoted and billed on a project basis, unless hourly work is requested. I welcome the opportunity to provide a time and cost estimate for your project.

Design and print projects are invoiced with 50% due before project is started and the remainder is due upon proof approval and must be paid in full before production begins or production files are supplied.

Website packages are invoiced with 50% due before project start and the remainder due when site is posted live.

All projects which last for more than one month will be invoiced with 50% due before start and the remainder billed monthly based on percentage of project completion at time of billing.

Direct expenses, such as shipping, and website hosting purchased on behalf of the client are billed at cost, and invoiced at time of purchase.

All original designs remain the property of the artist until invoices are paid in full. Artist reserves right to show samples of work created, unless client notifies artist in writing that they wish their projects to remain confidential.
